

Death Toll In Quake Area Listed Near 500

Unofficial Reports Say 1,500 Killed

Quito, Ecuador, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The City of Ambato counted more than 400 dead and 1,000 injured today following an earthquake which virtually destroyed the industrial center of 50,000. The casualty list was mounting steadily and hundreds more may be buried in the rubble.

(A dispatch from Lima, Peru, said Ecuadorian President Galo Plaza Lasso reported in a broadcast tonight from Ambato that 1,000 persons were killed by the quakes at Patate, which he described as a small town. No town by that name had been mentioned previously in reports from the stricken area.)

(Ecuadorian radio stations heard at Medellin, Colombia, gave estimates of the Ambato death toll ranging from 300 to 1,500.)

500 Dead In Ambato

(The Ecuadorian embassy in Washington said it had been officially confirmed that 500 were dead in Ambato alone. Ambassador Augusto Dillon said 70 per cent of the provincial capital's buildings were laid waste. Not only were 500 killed, Dillon said, but probably more than 2,000 were injured and 10,000 people probably will be out of work in Ambato.)

The earthquake struck at noon (CST) yesterday and continued until 2:45 p.m. in a series of six violent shocks. During the longest shock, which lasted 40 seconds—crashed of Ambato's biggest buildings—most of the ground. It was Ecuador's worst disaster since colonial times.

The entire Ecuadorian cabinet, except Interior Minister Salazar Gomez who went to Ambato with President Galo Plaza Lasso, was on 24-hours duty coordinating relief work.

Blocked By Landslides

Railway officials said the Quito-Guayaquil line was blocked by so many landslides it will take a week to reopen it. Twenty-seven slides were reported on one 3-mile stretch of track. This line, principal freight carrier between Quito and the Pacific coast, passes through the entire earthquake zone.

Floods added to the distress in the quake area. Landslides blocked streams which then changed their courses and inundated farmlands. The first contingents of troops helped calm panicky Ambato residents when they arrived there this morning.

The earthquake struck a wide mountainous area of the Andes range surrounding Quito, which lies 55 miles due south of Quito. The cities of Latacunga, Guaranda and Riobamba also were hit. The governor of Chimborazo province reported there were numerous dead and many injured in Riobamba, the provincial capital. This city, with 60,000 inhabitants, is 100 miles south of Quito.

Towns and villages suffering major damage included: San Miguel, Pujili, Cevallos, San Andres, Mochu, Cochimbama, Guano and Guano. The latter, famous for its Indian rugs, was reported almost destroyed with an undetermined number of dead and injured. The towns of Salcedo and Santa Rosa also were reported to have been damaged.

Czech Press Says Pope Profiteering From Slave Labor

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 6.—(AP)—In a renewed propaganda blast aimed at discrediting the Vatican, the controlled Czech press tonight accused Pope Pius XII of profiteering from Australian slave labor.

The chief assault on the Vatican was made by Svobodny Slovo, all manner of enterprises, including armament plants.

This newspaper said the Roman Catholic Pontiff had interests in a "missionary company, Jesus Christ, Ltd., in Australia, which buys and sells Australian natives for slave labor."

The alleged enterprise was not further defined.

(The Australian labor government prides itself on its liberal labor codes. There are no known slaves in Australia.)

There were persistent reports of new clashes between police and Catholics in Slovakia who defended their priests against threats of arrest, but these could not be confirmed either in church or official circles.

CHEAPER PORK CHOPS

Washington, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The Agriculture department advised housewives today cheaper pork chops are in prospect this fall. It also forecast general lower prices for other meats resulting from increased supplies.

Polio Epidemic Hits Peak In Some Areas

By The Associated Press

Infantile paralysis mounted sharply in the nation this week, but there are signs the peak has passed in some hardest hit areas.

A state by state survey by the Associated Press showed some 1,400 new cases developed in the last four days. This boosted the 1949 total to date to approximately 9,400—more than half again as high as for the comparable period in 1948, second worst polio year on record.

A note of cheer, however, was heard from health officials in Texas, Arkansas and in Detroit. And the U. S. Public Health Service in Washington also reported some evidence of a slackening in the upward pace in the country as a whole. A health service spokesman said there was a chance the polio season might end earlier this year.

In Texas, which is experiencing its worst polio year with 1,218 cases through June 30, Dr. George Cox, state health officer expressed the cautious view that the disease has leveled out somewhat.

The Arkansas health department said there is a definite slowdown of the disease in that state.

The Arkansas situation had been termed critical with 537 cases and 32 deaths this year, compared with 51 cases and no deaths last year.

At Detroit, where 130 cases have been reported so far this year, Dr. Bruce Douglas, city health commissioner, expressed hope that the "mild epidemic" there had passed its peak.

However, there still were ominous reports from some other sections.

Polio increased rapidly in Tennessee with 48 new cases reported the last week in July. Cases also mounted swiftly in Illinois, where the state health department cautioned against "fear and panic." Illinois health officials called attention to the fact that not more than 1 in 3,000 persons contracts the disease even in an epidemic year.

Brannan Favorable
Toward New Farm
Price Support Bill

Washington, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Brannan today was described as "favorable" toward a compromise farm price support bill drawn up by a Senate agriculture subcommittee. He suggested, however, the junking of a highly limited test of the farmer subsidy plan he proposed last spring.

Senator Anderson (D-NM) told reporters, however, that the test provisions probably would remain in the measure. He said that Brannan was "quite favorable to the bill as a compromise."

Brannan and two agriculture department aides spent more than three hours today behind closed doors going over the bill drafted by Anderson and a bi-partisan Senate agriculture subcommittee.

Anderson quoted Brannan as saying the proposed measure would "be better than the House bill."

Father Killed As Son Uses Carbine
To Wound Brother

Chicopee, Mass., Aug. 6.—(AP)—A peacekeeper father, John "Ray" Lynch, Sr., 49, was shot to death today as a fistfight between his two sons ended in the critical wounding of one of the boys and the arrest of the other on a murder charge.

James Lynch, 24, navy veteran, was held without bail in the death of his father.

Everett Lynch, 22, was reported on the danger list at Springfield hospital.

A single shot wounded Everett and then killed the father Police Capt. Frank A. Kaveny said.

Kaveny said "nobody knows" what the brothers battled over but that James "took a pretty bad pummeling." Then, the captain said, James seized a .30 calibre war souvenir carbine and fired the fatal shot.

7 Killed, 27 Hurt
As Synagogue In Syria Is Bombed

Damascus, Syria, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Syria's government announced today that six or seven Jews were killed and 27 injured in the bombing of a synagogue here yesterday, and that it was seeking the perpetrators as enemies of the state.

A large force of detectives and police searched the city for suspects under urgent government orders. Several persons were reported arrested, among them a member of a prominent Syrian family.

The official explanation was that the group responsible was "probably communist." Informed sources said, however, the bombing probably was the work of a small group of non-communist, anti-Jewish Arab elements, who also oppose the government.

Aides Deny That Franco Is Injured

San Sebastian, Spain, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Personal aides of Generalissimo Francisco Franco today denied all reports that the Spanish leader had met with some sort of an accident.

There had been rumors that Franco had been the victim of an assassination attempt met with an accident at sea; fallen overboard; got seasick.

All these were branded as purely rumors by the foreign ministry spokesman.

British Nudists
Ask Beaches Be Set Aside For Them

Horley, Eng., Aug. 6.—(AP)—So now it's the nudists who have a five-year plan.

In five years of campaigning, the British Sun Bathing Association (BSBA) disclosed tonight, nudists hope to win the right to bathe in their birthday suits on approved public beaches.

And frolic in the raw in approved public parks.

The nudists don't want mixed bathing and cavorting with nudists and non-nudists taking the sun together. They want certain public beaches set aside for the 60,000 Britons who go in for nudism.

Mrs. Sylvia Bassam, attractive, 34-year-old secretary of the BSBA, said the society will win its point by bold publicity.

"We get many applications from single men, but not enough from the right-type girls," she said.

18 PERSONS DIE IN STATE FIRES IN JUNE

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 6.—(AP)—Eighteen persons, including 10 children, died in Illinois fires during June, the state fire marshal's office reported today.

Five of 13 fatal fires involved occurred in dwellings, causing seven deaths. The other blazes which cost lives were in motor vehicles, small lodgings, garages and miscellaneous places.

General Manager White Says 93rd Edition Of Illinois State Fair Will Be Best Ever

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 6.—(AP)—The 93rd edition of the State Fair—Illinois' premier agricultural show—starts its 10-day run next Friday.

General Manager Henry J. White hailed it as the best ever.

"In every department and every event the 1949 fair will be the greatest we have had," said White.

As usual, attractions galore are on tap—agricultural, educational, entertainment, political and sports. They will pull over 1,000,000 admissions, judging from attendance at the 366-acre fairgrounds the last three years.

One of the new features likely to make a hit is the antique automobile meet open to vehicles 25 or more years old. Horseless carriages of the gasoline, steam and electric powered types are expected to turn up. A 1908 one-cylinder brush is the oldest entered so far.

Of course the fair's mainstay again will be the competitions among farm folk—the livestock events and contests in the culinary arts, home-making, handicraft and countless varieties of fruit, grain and other farm products.

To the winners will go the biggest share of the record high $299,000 in premiums. Prize exhibits will be selected from among upwards of 50,000 articles in 3,000 classifications. And there'll be such popular standbys with fair goers as the Illinois typical farm family and horse shoe pitching contests, along with the WLS barn dance on one night and widely known radio and stage entertainers.

The farm family winner will be chosen opening day, and the barn dance is set for next Saturday.

Shows? There'll be all kinds ranging from dog and horse shows—society and western—to the sort put on by carnivals.

States Maragon Get Help From White House In Deals

Washington, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Evidence that John Maragon turned to the White House concerning more than one government contract for business has been obtained in the "Five Percenters" inquiry, Senator Hoey (D-NC) said today.

Hoey discussed secret testimony on that point with reporters after Senator Mundt (R-SD) reported officials of a low-bidding Detroit auto parts company said they got fast clearance on a $280,000 army contract after reaching an army officer. This meeting was arranged, it was related, through a call to someone at the White House by Maragon, who once held a White House pass.

Meanwhile, James V. Hunt, a key figure in the five percent probe, announced he has instructed his lawyers to file a libel suit against the New York Herald Tribune. It was a Herald Tribune story which led to the investigation by a subcommittee headed by Hoey.

The senators seek to learn whether influence figured in award of any government contracts.

Hunt said the Herald Tribune was trying to get the Pulitzer prize "by the most vicious kind of innuendo."

"Their irresponsible half-truths have gone a long way toward ruining my business," Hunt added in a statement issued through his attorney, Roger G. White. White refused to disclose the damages to be asked but said it would be "in six figures."

The Herald Tribune had no statement at once.

Hunt, a former army officer who lists himself as a management counselor, was named in the Herald Tribune as the recipient of a $1,000 fee to help Paul Grindle, a Massachusetts manufacturer, obtain a government contract.

The story went on to quote Grindle as saying that Hunt also was to get five per cent of any government job he helped secure.

Grindle said Hunt implied he had considerable influence in Washington. Hunt retorted he never tried to trade on influence and none of the people he knows in government are subject to influence.

Ford Fails To Get
Court To Change
CIO Election Setup

Detroit, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The Ford Motor company failed today to obtain a court order to halt the holding of a strike vote among its employees at polling places close to headquarters of the CIO United Auto Workers.

In Lansing, Supreme Court Justice Leland W. Carr denied the company's plea for an order to force the state Labor Mediation Board to change the election setup.

The decision meant that the strike vote among Ford's 80,000 employees in Michigan will start Monday as scheduled.

The company immediately put full page advertisements in all three Detroit Sunday morning newspapers, appealing to the members of Walter P. Reuther's big union.

The ads appeared over the signature of Henry Ford II, and urged the workers to weigh their strike decision carefully.

Ford gave the company's version of the wage negotiation dispute with the union. He concluded:

"But however you decide, you must vote."

Worst Week Of '49
For Polio Boosts
Stricken To 596

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 6.—(AP)—As the worst week this year for polio cases drew to a close, the number of stricken Illinois persons hovered just below 600.

The 596 officially reported polio attacks so far compared with 370 cases for this date in 1948, regarded by state health authorities as an epidemic year. Persons infected this week totaled 251.

The disease has invaded all but 28 of the state's 102 counties and caused 36 fatalities. The latest death was that of little Mary Henley, 4, of West Frankfort. Mary died early today en route to a St. Louis hospital.

Forty one new names were added today to the state health department's case list. They were residents of 18 scattered counties, including three that polio had bypassed until now.

The three were Kendall, Mercer and Shelby.

Marion, Champaign and Knox counties, all hard hit areas, each counted several new victims as did Kane, where spread of the disease has picked up speed in recent days.

Family Completes
6,000-Mile Cruise
In 46-Foot Boat

Pittsburgh, Aug. 6.—(AP)—With her sails billowing proudly, the dream ship, "Seven Seas" passed the point bridge today and glided in to the Monongahela river.

It was the end of a 6,000-mile voyage begun by Frank Potter and his family 11 months ago at Boston.

Potter, a sales engineer with a boyhood yearning for the sea, and his pretty wife were at the helm of the two-masted 46-foot schooner as it docked below Short street.

On its journey from Boston, the "Seven Seas" followed the Atlantic Coast around Florida, crossed the Gulf of Mexico and sailed up the Mississippi and Ohio rivers.

The four Potter children, Jane, 10; Nancy, 12; Frank, 7, and Ross, 2, went ashore at Beaver, Pa., yesterday to visit their grandparents.

Potter bought the schooner at a Long Island dock 11 months ago. He sailed her up to Boston, where he quit his job as a sales engineer, packed his wife and children aboard and set sail for his hometown of Beaver.

Today, the trip and the dream were over. After a brief stopover in Pittsburgh, the Potters set sail again up the Ohio river to Beaver. There the "Seven Seas" will be put up for sale.

Chicago Negroes
Fete Bud Billiken
Day With Parade

Chicago, Aug. 6.—(AP)—A mammoth parade and an all-day fun-fest marked the annual observance of Bud Billiken Day in Chicago's far-flung south side negro neighborhood.

Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson and Mayor Martin H. Kennelly were on hand to review the parade of some 20,000 marchers, brass band, high-stepping drum majorettes, floats, and organizational units.

Bud Billiken, symbolized by a 250,000 negro youngsters by a quaint fanciful figure reminiscent of a Chinese idol, is a later-day legend. Nobody knows just how he came to be. But he stands for "things as they should be" and there are dozens of negro youth clubs throughout the country bearing his name.

Distinguished negro figures who watched today's parade included Federal Judges Irvin C. Mollison of New York and Herman Moore of the Virgin Islands.

Supervising games in Washington park after the parade were Jesse Owens, Ralph Metcalfe and Mel Walker, top athletes of their race.

House Democrats
Disclose Patronage
Problems Solved

Washington, Aug. 6.—(AP)—House Democrats disclosed today that a quiet party pow-wow with the White House represented, had brought informal agreement on vexing patronage problems and campaign financing.

Some administration critics were pictured as gratified. Democrats talked confidently of picking up at least 20 more seats in next year's election as a result of the "understandings."

The agreement was discussed as a supposedly secret meeting of a few nights ago in the caucus room of the old house office building.

Those attending were (1) members of the Democratic congressional committee, (2) representatives of the Democratic national committee, and (3) Matt Connelly, presidential secretary and one of Harry S. Truman's right-hand men.

The congressional committee is composed of one Democrat from each state having a Democrat in the House. Its job is to look after the party's interests in house elections every two years. Rep. Mike Grivan of Ohio is chairman of the group.

Grandstand Falls
At Auto Raceway;
25 Persons Hurt

Rhinebeck, N.Y., Aug. 6.—(AP)—About 25 auto raceway spectators were injured tonight as part of the grandstand collapsed at the Dutchess County Fair grounds here.

More than 5,000 persons were in the stands watching weekly stock car races as the back segment of a new grandstand gave way. The injured persons were rushed to the Northern Dutchess hospital.

A hospital spokesman said there were "quite a few broken arms and legs."

A member of the Dutchess county sheriff's office said the injured persons fell about 16 to 20 feet.

The racing program continued after the accident, a fair grounds spokesman said.

Name 2 Lawyers
To Defend Girl, 13,
In Death Of Boy, 7

Joliet, Ill., Aug. 6.—(AP)—Two new lawyers were appointed today to defend 13 year old Diana Allen. She is charged with murdering little Charles (Snookie) Johnson, 7.

At a special hearing in circuit court, Judge James V. Bartley named attorneys James W. Faulkner and Francis Dunn. They accepted the appointment. Their fees will be paid by Will county.

Bartley allowed James E. Burke, and C. George Dimas to withdraw. Burke presented an affidavit to the judge saying that he was heavily overloaded with work. He said he would not have time to prepare a proper defense for the girl and it would be unfair to her to have him represent her.

The trial, originally set for Sept. 6, was reset for Sept. 26. She is charged with drowning the boy.

Deputy Sheriff Roy Doerflinger said she told him she "had an urge to drown some one."

11 Die Fighting Vast Montana Forest Fire

Asks U.S. Take Fresh Start In China Policy

Washington, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Senator Vandenberg, republican foreign policy leader, said tonight that the United States must take a fresh look at its China policies and determine its course "unhampered by past prejudices or emotions."

Speaking out on the government's China policy "white paper," the Michigan senator said this country must make "relentlessly clear" its support for the Chinese people and for freedom in the Far East.

Patrick J. Hurley, who headed a wartime mission to China, assailed the white paper in a statement as "a smooth alibi for the pro-communists in the state department."

In several ways Vandenberg's statement coincided with views expressed by Secretary of State Acheson.

Acheson, who has abandoned hope of saving China by propping up the nationalist regime, has before him the problem of shaping a positive new approach.

Aides and associates expected him to move along three lines in directing new administration moves against communism in the Far East. This possibly includes assistance to anti-communist forces which may remain or spring up to oppose Chinese Red control.

Vandenberg, top republican on the Senate foreign relations committee, declared that the United States must not accept results of "aggression." He said he did not believe aggression in China can permanently succeed. Acheson had declared in a statement on the white paper yesterday that he was not "defeatist."

Vandenberg called for "a fresh look, unhampered by past prejudices or emotions." Acheson has announced that he was bringing in outside advisers to work with state department officials on devising new moves with respect to China and the Far East.

Vandenberg further declared that the United States "deal with the realities" of the situation. Acheson likewise had demanded that the country adopt a "realistic" attitude toward its problems in China.

Illinois Legion's
40 And 8 Society
March In Chicago

Chicago, Aug. 6.—(AP)—With flares sputtering, torches blazing, whistles blowing, and bells clanging, the Illinois American Legion's 40 and 8 society strutted its stuff in a parade around the loop tonight.

The veterans' siren and firecracker experts gave a light touch to the serious work and speechmaking that went on earlier during the second day of the four day 31st annual Illinois department convention.

The parade featured replicas of the French "40 men or eight horses" boxcars so familiar to goldiers who've fought in France.

A convention ball in the smart Gold Room of the Congress hotel was to follow the parade.

Earlier today, legionnaires filled the entire main floor of the Chicago Civic Opera House auditorium to hear Senate majority leader Scott Lucas (D-Ill.).

Senator Lucas predicted that the congress will overwhelmingly approve the military assistance plan for nations belonging to the Atlantic pact.

Greeks Launch Big Offensive Against Commie Guerrillas

Athens, Greece, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The Greek army today unleashed a full-scale offensive, supported by planes and tanks, against the estimated 5,000 communist guerrillas in the Grammos mountains.

The battle started with troops attacking along two sides of a 250-square-mile triangle based on the Albanian border and with its apex at Eptahorion. The triangle is anchored on the border northwest of Nestorion and northeast of Konitsa.

The general staff, announcing the offensive, said preliminary action which had been going on for two days had ended and that the battle now is in its main phase.

New troops supported by tanks and planes are being hurled into the fighting.

Preliminary successes were scored on the northeastern front, where heavily fortified heights were captured in combined operations by the air force and infantry, the staff said.

Other successes were scored by the army on the southwest front the communists added.

WEATHER

The Norbury Sanatorium, cooperative observer for the U.S. Weather bureau, yesterday reported the temperatures for Saturday as follows: High, 91; low, 64; and at 6 p.m., 84.

Forecast for Illinois—Fair and warm today. High 88-92.

Helena, Mont., Aug. 6.—(AP)—At least 11 men are dead and two are missing in a forest fire that formed a raging death trap for forest service parachutists.

The blaze is centered in a primitive mountain area 25 miles northeast of here.

Nine charred bodies have been found in the embers and eight of the nine are believed the bodies of "smoke jumpers" who parachuted into the gates of the mountain sector yesterday to fight the flames.

Only 3 Are Safe

Only three of 15 parachutists dropped from planes over the area are known to be safe.

Two of them died in a Helena hospital today.

The lightning-caused blaze has ravaged more than 3,000 acres since it burst out of control yesterday and tonight it was roaring ahead of reinforcements and communications with terrifying noise and speed.

Supervisor A. D. Moir of Helena National Forest said the 400 men would stay on the fire lines all night. He said uncontrollable flames were running ahead of firefighters up Mann gulch and Willow Creek, along the Missouri river.

Two of the federal forest service jumpers died of burns in a Helena hospital today. They were Joseph B. Sylvia, 24, Plymouth, Mass., University of Minnesota student, and Bill Hellman, 24, of Kallispell, Mont. Identify Third Victim.

Moir tonight identified a third victim, who died at the fire, as Robert J. Bennett, 22, of Paris, Tenn. One smoke jumper was unidentified publicly pending notification of his next of kin.

The fifth victim, James O. Harrison, Missoula, Mont., was a forest service employee at the nearby Canyon Ferry Ranger station.

More than 400 men poured into the area today to augment fire lines around the Gates of the Mountains fire and another blaze nine miles to the southeast.

By airplane from Idaho, by truck from Montana cities, volunteers joined professionals working on the blaze. Fifty soldiers came down from the Great Falls airbase.

HOW TO SURVIVE AS A BOSS

Of the various explanations given for the resounding victory of the Byrd machine in Virginia's governorship fight, one received less attention than we think it deserves. Is it that Senator Harry F. Byrd, head of the machine whose candidate, Senator John Battle, scored a decisive victory for the Democratic nomination, has been the leader of the fight in Washington to bring expenses down.

Virginia folks, apparently, are interested in conserving their tax dollars. They know that Harry Byrd has been fighting to save their dollars. That kind of service goes a long way with voters.

Public servants, in order to win the support of a special group of voters, too often ignore the whole public in order to reward this group. It is the expedient thing to do; it takes someone with the qualities of statesmanship to snub group interests and think of the long-range welfare of the people. Byrd is such a public servant.

The main complaint against him was that he is domineering and plutocratic. He doesn't denounce the capitalists every time he rises in the senate; he thinks a millionaire can have human qualities.

The Virginia people, with a long conservative tradition, didn't fall for the "plutocrat" booshwa put out against him. Byrd, the man of economy, still has their allegiance.

He is not, in fact, a real boss; he is a leader. The only genuine political boss of any stature in the south is Ed Crump of Memphis, who incidentally, remains powerful despite defeats in 1948 statewide races; he stays supreme in Memphis because, for all his shortcomings, he runs Memphis very economically and has given the people one of the lowest tax rates in the country.

We don't suggest that every city develop a boss like the Memphis "Red Snapper," but we believe every state could profit by having a senator like Harry Byrd.

Gustafson, rural route one, Jacksonville, and Herbert J. Schafer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schafer of Chicago, was solemnized in a double-ring ceremony performed by the pastor, Rev. Leslie G. Heuston.

The vows were pledged before an altar banked with palms and ferns and white calla lilies, flanked by glowing tapers. The candles were lighted by the bride's brother, Wendell Gustafson.

Preceding the ceremony, a prelude of organ music was presented by Mrs. Alice Geisler, who also played the wedding marches and accompanied the soloist, Miss Valencia Forwood, as she sang "One Alone" and "Because."

Miss Barbara Cully of Chicago was the maid of honor. The best man was Richard Wiewora, also of Chicago.

Given By Father
Attired in the traditional gown of white, the bride was given in marriage by her father. The gown featured bodice and peplum of French lace and bouffant skirts of tulle, net and marquisette. She wore opera-length gloves of matching lace and a cathedral veil of French illusion, attached to a pearlized tulle. An orchid arranged with streamers topped the white Bible which she carried.

The maid of honor wore a gown of similar design in a delicate orchid shade. She wore a picture hat of pale yellow and carried matching flowers tied with orchid streamers.

The men in the wedding party wore summer tuxedos. Both mothers chose black dresses with harmonizing accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations.

A reception for 75 guests was held at the Dunlap hotel following the ceremony. Assisting with the serving were Mrs. Jack McNeeley and Miss Eleanor Hempel, cousins of the bride, and the Misses Stella Valle and Helen Simos, both of Chicago.

Supper This Evening
A wedding supper for members of the immediate family and out-of-town guests will be held at the hotel at 7:30 p. m., after which the couple will leave on an extended tour of the South. The bride's traveling ensemble will be a dress of gray slipper satin with black accessories, complemented with an orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Schafer will reside at 2453 North Harding avenue in Chicago. The bridegroom is an electrical engineer with the Burlington & Quincy Railroad.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Miss Stella Valle, Frank Campgell, Miss Helen Simos, Steve Christanthus, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schaffer, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wiewora, Mrs. Catherine Quinn and Mrs. M. L. Quinn of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Matt of Milwaukee, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Schaefer and daughter, Audrey, of Cleveland, O.; and Edward Furlong and Gordon Buchholz of St. Louis.

THE DOCTOR SAYS Earliest Possible Treatment Vital In Saving Sight

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

Written for NEA Service

Of all the senses, the ability to see is perhaps the most important. The person who has been born blind cannot know what color really means or the appearance of other human beings. One who has become blind after having been able to see is almost equally bad situation.

Many cases of blindness, whether present at birth or developing later in life, can be prevented. Active in seeking to avoid unnecessary blindness is the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

This organization is interested in any measures which can be used to prevent loss of vision. Recently it held its 40th anniversary conference at which many papers were presented and numerous suggestions offered for combating loss of vision.

The most important preventive is to obtain the best possible advice at the earliest possible moment. Infections of the eye and other defects which may lead to blindness can frequently be treated with complete success if caught early.

Transplantation It is not possible to restore sight in all patients who have become unable to see. It can be done, however, in a few cases. In some, for example, an operation may be considered when the cause of blindness is lack of transparency of the cornea of the eye.

It is a mistake to speak of "transplantation of the eye," as actually it is transplantation only of that part of the eye referred to as the cornea.

The operation is a delicate one. The normal eye tissue must exactly replace the diseased tissue taken out. It can be done successfully by any expert eye surgeon, however, and many people already have had their vision restored by this means.

The eye tissue to be grafted into a blind person can be stored for only a few days. Consequently the storage, transportation and quick grafting to a person who needs it is important if satisfactory results are to be obtained.

In order to speed the restoration of vision to those who can be treated in this way, eye banks have been formed in several cities.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

QUESTION: May I have some information about an "inflamed liver" or "enlarged liver" and how to overcome it?

ANSWER: There are many conditions which cause the liver to enlarge and without knowing what particular one is involved it is quite impossible to guess at the source of the trouble.

AUSTRALIANS SEEK CROCODILE MONEY

Darwin, Australia—(P)—Ten young Australians are going out after big crocodiles and big money. Soon they will set up a base camp at the mouth of the MacArthur river, in the Gulf of Carpentaria, 408 miles southeast of Darwin.

They hope to make $3,230 each before Christmas. They expect to shoot about 120 crocodiles a month. They have a contract with a Brisbane firm to buy all their skins for 40 cents an inch.

Ballerina Toppers Wrap Fall Finery

Ballerina coats make big fashion news. Bright plaid taffeta jacket (right) flounces a peplum as flip as a dancer's skirt. Flame red suede velvet spreads its charms in the cape coat (left), quilt-stitched at hemline and at flared cuffs of sleeves.

BY EPSIS KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor
New York—(NEA)—Sauciest little coat of the new season is the ballerina topper.
Swinging into autumn with unrestrained fullness this coat of Monte Sano's design is cut as short as a dancer's skirt. It makes up in width what it lacks in length and in frou frou what it lacks in the more solid virtues of a winter wrap. Brilliantly colored plaid taffeta—red, green and yellow—lends its crisp charms to one long-waisted jacket which sports a peplum as pert as a ballerina's skirt. This ruffly flounce can be flipped out, tilted up, or down or crushed into folds. It owes its antics to a pliable stiffness that is woven into taffeta. Another ballerina topper which spreads across shoulders like butterfly wings is a flame-colored cape of suede velvet. This cape-coat has the fullness of a dancer's skirt and is quilt stitched in deep bands to strengthen its flip appeal; and again to enforce the flair of full, trumpet-shaped sleeves.

CHICAGOANS SEEK SIAMESE WILDLIFE

Bangkok—(P)—Three Americans are in Thailand (Siam) to collect birds, mammals and reptiles for the Chicago Natural History museum. They especially seek tigers. They do not seek elephants or tigers, devoting their attention to smaller, rarer specimens of animal and reptile life.

VENEZUELA GETS IOWA HOGS

Des Moines—(P)—Sixty-four head of purebred Berkshire hogs are en route to Venezuela. The purchase followed a visit to central Iowa about a month ago by Venezuelan authorities. They said at that time that they preferred the Berkshire breed because of its large percentage of lean meat as compared to lard.

It is estimated that 100,000 species of plants would virtually disappear if there were no bees.

Party line telephone users realize that good service depends on the mutual thoughtfulness of everyone on the line. Your Telephone Company hopes that people with party line service follow certain "common sense" suggestions so that better telephone service can be secured from your telephone.

For the information of our telephone users, we publish the following good neighbor party line pledge:

1. I will be as brief as possible, because someone else may be waiting to use the line.
2. I will answer my telephone promptly when it rings.
3. I will not hesitate in hanging up the receiver when I'm through talking, for one receiver off means the whole line is out of service.
4. I will let the other fellow enjoy secrecy of communication.
5. In the event I have several calls to make, I will "space" them in order to allow others to make their calls.
6. I will gladly hang up when someone on the line wants to place an emergency call.
7. I will urge the young folks in our home to share the line.
8. I will give the other fellow a chance to finish his conversation without interruption before trying to place my call.

Boosters Club Has Annual Picnic

White Hall—The Boosters club held its annual picnic at the Lions Park, with an attendance of approximately 70 persons, including members, their families and friends.

Rev. Charles Vandettum made a short talk. A business meeting was held, with President Allen Brannan presiding. Mr. Brannan appointed a nominating committee to select officers for the ensuing year. The election will be held at the next regular meeting.

The Daughters of Faith class of the First Baptist church held their August meeting in the form of a basket picnic at the Lions Park. Approximately 45 members and their families attended. Games were enjoyed after the supper.

A mild winter in 1890 caused a world-wide shortage of natural ice and stimulated development of ice making machines.

WHEN DISASTER STRIKES

We move right in . . . When a recent devastating tornado struck Wood River, Illinois—blotting out all electric service facilities—more than a dozen Illinois Power crews from surrounding towns quickly answered the emergency call.

Word of the disaster reached Division Headquarters shortly after 9:00 p.m. Within two hours our completely equipped crews were on the job. At 5:23 the next morning over a mile of new line had been built including new poles and wires, and large sections of the community had electric service available. Within 24 hours after the first notice of the disaster, service was restored to every user ready to receive it.

The handling of the Wood River disaster is typical of the ability of our organization to meet any eventuality.

On Goin' Swimmin' With The Women

By HAL BOYLE

New York. —(AP)—When you grow from a boy into a man you are short-changed in many ways. You trade the simple life for the complicated life. And one of the things you trade is the "Ole Swimming Hole" for the beach. It is a poor swap. It turns the carefree barefoot boy of yore into a groaning, grumbling grownup beast of burden.

When I was a boy and summered in the country, going swimming was no problem. We just peeled off our overalls behind a bush, and waded into the stream or pool, bare as a bluejay and happy as a hound dog.

The only thing to fear was stepping on a crawdad's claw or meeting up with a water snake. And, of course, you are to keep an eye on the bush behind which lay your overalls. If you don't, some rural cousin would sneak out, tie them in knots and soak them in the stream. Then, later, as you tried to untangle your soggy clothing, the gang would surround you and scream:

Always a Show Off

"Chaw beef! Chaw beef!"

When the evening train passed by on the way to Kansas City, most of the kids ducked down to their necks in the water. But there was always one who climbed up on the grass and paraded back and fourth in view of the passengers.

In those faraway days such a boy wasn't called a "showoff." The Missouri phrase was: "Look at the bank strutter." And anybody, man or boy, who tried to keep in the public eye as known as "that bank strutter." It was a popular term among politicians.

Going home from the "Ole swimming hole" a boy might get a thorn in his foot. But, all in all, his dunking had been as artless and easy as the first dive by Adam into the Garden of Eden's pool.

It's a Ritual Now

Co-educational swimming has ruined all that. After a man marries, he finds that going for the ocean's foamy touch takes more trouble and clothing than dressing for a fancy dress ball. It is more like going on an African safari then going for a swim.

I spent a weekend at the beach recently with Frances. She packed two heavy suitcases. After lugging them for three hours to reach the sea, via subway, train, taxi and ferry, I figured the suitcases must have equipment to protect us against any emergency except frostbite and being hit by lightning. They did.

Ocean Took His Lotion

In the suitcases were two bathrobes, enough towels to dry a battalion of purpoises, two pairs of slippers, sunglasses, four bathing suits, socks, slacks, shirts, dresses, fountain pens, pins, combs, books, magazines, vitamin pills and an unopened letter from a friend in Montana. There also was a battery of bottles loaded with lotions and creams sufficient to grease Shirley May France for a swim from Dover to Boston.

"I don't want you to get sunburned," explained Frances.

That afternoon as we lay on the beach Frances mused:

"Wouldn't it be nice if we had brought along the portable radio?" You know what I got out of the week-end? A strained back—and a bad sunburn. The ocean took my lotion.

I'm through swimmin' with women. Send me to the showers, coach, or back to the ole swimming hole.

JAPAN MUST GROW OWN PULPWOOD

Tokyo.—(AP)—There's a world shortage of pulpwood, and Japan needs to expect any imports to relieve her scarcity. Reforestation, says Harold E. Murdock, is Japan's only way out. He is with the forestry division of General MacArthur's natural resource section. He recently returned from Montreal where he attended a conference on pulpwood problems called by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations. Before the war, Japan was the major producer in Asia. She produced and consumed five per cent of the world's pulpwood volume. Now she produces and consumes two per cent.

Watches Keep Time With Fashion

BY EPSIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor

New York—(NEA)—Now, women will have to find better alibis for being late than the undependable watch.

To make their watches dependable, no matter how small and frivolous-looking they are or how absent-minded women are about winding, is the idea behind revolutionary designs.

There's a lady's automatic, for example—small, smart, thin, unbreakable and handsomely encased in late, guess my watch is slow," feature steel or gold which takes care of the problem of forgetting to wind or case, curved movement. These two of turning acrobat in order to wind, aids to accurate time-keeping curve This watch's self-winder is mounted on ball bearings with five micro-scope steel balls. Such a mounting allows the weight to wind the main-spring at every rotation, both clockwise and counter-clockwise, and keeps the hands, including a sweep second hand, ticking time.

Another time-keeper designed to make old-hat that alibi "Sorry I'm Watches styled to perfection play havoc with alibis for being late. There are dependable mechanisms behind the birthday watch (right) encased in a curved rectangle of gold, and the diamond encrusted watch (top left). Tailored watch (lower left) ticks away under its own ball-bearing self-winder.

SOCIAL SECURITY AND YOU

(This series of questions and answers is presented in order that you may be better informed about the operations of Federal Old Age and Survivors Insurance. Additional questions should be directed to the Social Security Administration at Springfield, Mrs. Margaret Chapin, Social Security Representative, is in Jacksonville each Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the U. S. Employment office.)

Q. Are social security payments made automatically?

A. No, indeed. A claim must first be filed with a Social Security office. A claim for monthly payments must be filed within 3 months after a 65 year old worker stops working on jobs under social security. When a worker dies, regardless of his age at the time of death, his family must file within 3 months. This will prevent any loss of benefits, since the law says back payments can be made for only three months before they're applied for. If the family waits longer than three months, they may lose benefits.

Q. My son is only 17 years old and works in a local grocery store. His employer says he has to take out social security. Is that legal at his age?

A. Yes, the employer is right. As long as a person works on a job under social security, the employer is required to deduct the social security tax and to report his wages. The age of the employee makes no difference whatever.

Q. I'm just 65 years old now and I want to know if I have to stop working and go on social security.

A. No. The Federal Government does not require that you stop working at age 65. You are perfectly free to continue working, if you desire to do so. However, social security payments are made only to qualified persons at age 65 when they are no longer working under social security.

Q. I'm working in a hospital now and they don't take social security taxes from my wages. I've been told that they should. Please tell me which is right.

A. The hospital is probably correct in not deducting taxes for social security. Most hospitals are nonprofit organizations and therefore do not come under social security. However, some private hospitals which are operated for profit do come under the law. To find out about this definitely, get in touch with the Social Security Administration office in Springfield, Illinois.

Q. I'm 35 years old now and have worked under social security ever since it started. My wife is 30 and we have two small children. Would they get any good from my social security if I should die?

A. Yes, your wife and children would get monthly payments. Since you are obviously qualified through your work, your wife would get payments for herself and the two children until they are 18 years old. When the youngest child is 18, all payments stop. Your wife's payments will begin again when she is 65, provided she has not remarried.

Q. I heard that social security payments were raised, but I haven't gotten any raise in mine. When do they start?

A. Social security payments can be raised only if Congress changes the law. Several bills have been introduced to amend the law, but final action has not been taken.

Policewoman Gets Black Eye

Singapore —(P)—A 38-year-old woman vegetable seller earned the questionable distinction of being the first person in Singapore to give a member of this island's new women police force a black eye. Lan Choon was sent to prison for six weeks for assault and was fined $10 for hawking without a license.

Policewoman Miss Susi Gan was the chief witness against Lan. Wearing a definitely discolored left eye, Miss Gan said she tried to arrest the vegetable seller only to receive a sharp left to the eye. Miss Gan had to call a police constable to bring assemblance of order.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Be Wary In Using Drugs For Relief Of Hay Fever

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.
Written For NEA Service

Millions of sufferers from hay fever dread the arrival of August 15. At about that date (perhaps earlier this year because of the advanced season) the common ragweed begins to release pollen into the air.

The running or stuffed-up nose, itching and watering eyes, and the sneezing fits of the hay fever victim make a miserable time. Some people are so seriously affected that they cannot sleep. They lose weight, become irritable and exhausted and feel of little use to themselves or to anyone else during the four or five weeks of "the season."

Many victims of hay fever have obtained great relief by taking the injections or "shots" of pollen before the season starts. The purpose of these injections is to reduce the sensitivity to the pollen.

Some people cannot take large enough doses to do much good. Others, for reasons which are not yet entirely understood, fail to respond very well. Many, however, obtain some relief and a few get over their symptoms entirely.

Temporary Relief
Once the season has started these preventive injections are not of much help. Many who can get away try to seek areas where there is less pollen, but others have to stay where they are and grin and bear it. Air conditioned public buildings offer bring some relief. Some people who can afford it feel better if they stay in a room with an air filter in the window.

Several drugs which bring considerable relief are now on the market. These drugs act for only a short time, but they do help many hay fever sufferers when their symptoms are intolerable. They are not entirely lacking in undesirable effects, however, and therefore could not be taken without some medical supervision.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS

Chicago, Aug. 6.—(P)—Hogs were quoted in a $17.25 to $23.00 range today, ending a week in which the price spread between light and heavy weights was narrowed. Cattle held steady. There were no sheep for sale.

An advance in lard and dressed pork prices helped the hog market during the week. Sows scaling more than 400 pounds and barrows and gilts weighing more than 240 pounds advanced about 50 cents. Lighter weights held steady. Toy was $23.25, paid Monday through Friday.

All choice steers and good and choice yearlings closed steady with the top standing at $28.35. Slaughter lambs closed the week dull at about 50 cents lower.

GRAIN MARKET DRIFTS ALONG WITH SMALL PRICE CHANGES

Chicago, Aug. 6.—(P)—The grain market drifted along with small price changes today. For the most part the trend was a little lower, although mild rally got underway shortly before the close and sent some contracts above the previous close.

There was some profit-taking following yesterday's price run-up, particularly in May wheat. Cash wheat prices were slightly easier in the northwest and southwest.

Shortly before the close J. S. Bache and Company, a commission firm, said it received a wire from its Kansas City office stating an embargo, effective immediately, has been placed on all bulk grain for storage destined to all consignees located in Kansas City, St. Louis and East St. Louis.

Wheat closed a lower to a higher, September $2.05 1/2, corn was 1-1/2 higher, September $1.26 1/2-$1.27, oats were 1/2 lower to 1/2 higher, September $1.52 1/2, soybeans were 1/2 to 1/2 higher, November $2.37 1/2-$2.38, and lard was 5 cents lower to 7 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $12.85.

Charles Sets New Mark For Eagerness, Signs To Battle Lesnevich

By Jack Hand
New York, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Ezzard Charles risks his newly won NBA heavyweight championship in record time Wednesday night at Yankee Stadium against Gus Lesnevich, the durable ex-light heavyweight king from Cliffside Park, N. J.

Only 49 days after he won the crown by defeating Jersey Joe Walcott in a dull 15-rounder at Chicago, the Cincinnati negro puts his title on the line against muffed-faced Gus. This beats Joe Louis' mark by 20 days.

The boys who make the odds on fights don't consider this much of a contest for they have made 26-year-old Charles a lopsided favorite over his 35-year-old foe. The price is approximately 5 to 18 with many predicting an early knockout.

Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club which is staging its first big fight in New York, hopes to attract over 20,000 fans and some $150,000 to the 15-round bout. There will be radio and television.

Despite two appeals to Chairman Eddie Egan of the New York State Athletic Commission, New York remains the only state that refuses to recognize Charles as champion. Egan holds out for an elimination tournament but the NBA tabbed the Charles-Walcott winner as its titleholder.

Europe has yet another idea. The British Board of Boxing Control will recognize winner of the Lee Savold-Bruce Woodcock Sept. 6 fight as its "world" champ, if the fight is held. The victor and the Charles-Lesnevich winner probably will be matched next summer in New York. Woodcock was injured last Thursday in an automobile accident and while he suffered no broken bones the fight is on the "doubtful list."

Charles, down to 180 before the final weekend of sparring at Pompton Lakes, N. J., Louis' old camp, probably will come in at about 178 pounds as compared to 181 for the Walcott fight. Gus will weigh about 182 but he will be giving away height and reach to his young opponent.

"If he gets in the way, he'll probably get knocked out," says Charles, a quiet man not given to extravagant predictions.

"I'm going to beat him," says Lesnevich, "by a knockout if I get a chance."

Third place went to Louis Lee Haggin II's Stole, a 50 to 1 shot, while Lithe, owned by Hal Price Headley, Lexington, Ky., finished fourth in the twelve-horse field.

Bewitch was scheduled to run with the highly regarded Two Lea as an entry, but the latter was scratched. The crowd of 22,087, however, established the Calumet color-bearer a 7-5 favorite and she returned $4.80, $3.40 and $2.80.

Dandilly, which had scored a smashing upset triumph in the Myrtlewood handicap at Arlington Park, paid $7.40 and $5.80, while Stole returned $1.20 to show.

Bewitch, ridden by Jockey Steve Brooks, made amends for her failure to triumph in only one race in nine starts this year. She added $19,200 to Calumet Farm's bulging bankroll. Her time for the seven furlongs was 1:22 2-5, only two-fifths of a second slower than Rippey's track record and was her best performance at that distance.

Murrayville Nine Grabs 13-7 Win From Moose Jrs.

The Murrayville softball team invaded the Southside park Saturday night and copped a 13-7 decision from the Moose juniors before a sparse crowd.

Reynolds twirled for the junior Moose. Trimble pitched the winning game for Murrayville.

The Trinity Boys Club representatives whipped the Flamingo youngsters 10-7 in the preliminary. Hazelrig was the winning pitcher and Davis was the loser.

Philadelphia Edges Pirates 4 To 3

Pittsburgh, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Dick Siler's pinch single scored Ed Ennis from second with two out in the ninth inning today to give the Philadelphia Phils a 4 to 3 edge over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Ralph Kiner's 28th home run with Dino Restelli on base in the eighth ended the Pirates to tie the count at 3-3.

Andy Seminick and Ennis each hit their 15th homers of the season early in the game to put the Phils in front. Dino Restelli, the rookie Pirate outfielder, hit his 11th home run in the fifth.

Philadelphia, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Dick Fowler outpitched Bob Lemon today as the Philadelphia Athletics took a 2 to 0 verdict over the Cleveland Indians. The second place Indians are now only one and one-half games ahead of Boston, the Red Sox taking a 3-0 victory over Detroit at Boston today.

Mike Guerra singled, Fowler sacrificed and Wally Moses' single accounted for the A's first run in the second inning. Guerra tripled in the eighth, scoring Nelson Fox with the only other run of the game.

Birds Miss Chance To Stretch NL Lead

By Bob Merris
Feels Big-League

"I really felt big-league the other night, as I batted against Babe Ruth's old sub Myril Hoag—got a double in four tries—a Red Sox scout was in the stands to see if Hoag is good enough to pitch relief ball for Boston—I talked with him in the clubhouse after the game, and asked all kinds of questions about the Babe."

That, in part, is comprised of excerpts from a letter this corner received from Stan Spotts Saturday evening. Stan is very happy playing baseball with the Orlando Senators in the Florida state league. His address is merely Stan Spotts, Orlando Senators, Orlando, Florida, should any of his Jacksonville friends care to correspond.

We're Bating 1000

We told you so, and oops, our mistake, are favorite expressions that ring from this corner. We'll go on record this time as quoting the first phrase. "Yep, we did tell you district softball tournament fans who would emerge the semi-final victors in the first state play-off series clash. The local House of Clay and Winchester V.F.W. nines protected our prognostication as they fought through to the championship bracket. The teams will clash Sunday night for the district title. Fans with elephant memories will further remember that we even called the final shot—it's the House of Clay by a nose over a strong fielding, weak pitching Winchester aggregation."

The Jacksonville Elks and Roodhouse Phillips 66 Flyers will do battle for third place honors at 7:30 this evening. Something new in the way of three-place trophies will feature this season's district softball tournament.

The starting horn for the sectional tournament will sound off Wednesday, August 10. Both the House of Clay and Winchester V.F.W. nines will join the strong Myers Bros. and implement Dealer clubs as representatives of this area. Only one team below the actual state play-off tournament, the sectional will be conducted at the local Southside park again this season.

Chisox Take 12 Inning Contest From Nats 6 To 5

Washington, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Luke Appling established a major league record today by playing his 2,154th game as Chicago scored a 6-5 win over Washington after twelve innings.

The 40-year old Appling, playing shortstop, was honored by his teammates last night for his long stint in baseball and also received a bonus check. He said he hoped he could play another year.

Today's game was a 5-5 deadlock going into the twelfth inning. But doubles by Dave Philp and Cass Michaels snapped the tie. The victory was credited to Kileman, who took over from Bob Kuzava in the seventh.

Grattan McKlyo Wins Nassau Race, Sets New Record

Westbury, N. Y., Aug. 6.—(AP)—It had been predicted by the experts that Grattan McKlyo would win the $50,000 Nassau two mile race and set a world record. The seven-year-old gelding came through on both counts.

Favorite over 15 other veteran sidewheelers, the ebony-hued star was timed in 4:16 4/5 at Roosevelt raceway last night. He clipped four-fifths of a second from the mark made in the same classic last year by Goose Bay, an absentee this time.

One of the rank outsiders got within a nose of upsetting the favorite, driven by Neal Houster. Brother Harmony closed with a rush to be second and returned $19.90 for place. Third position in the grand circuit went to Royal Man.

The victor earned $22,500, making his all-time total $81,072.

Birds Miss Chance To Stretch NL Lead

St. Louis, Aug. 6.—(AP)—With former Mexican leaguer Adrian Zabala turning in a six-hit pitching job, the New York Giants defeated the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals 3-1 tonight before a crowd of 28,193.

This left the Redbirds still a half game ahead of the runner-up Brooklyn Dodgers, who lost to Cincinnati this afternoon.

Zabala had a three-hitter until the Cardinals scored their lone run in the eighth on singles by Tommy Giaviano and Red Schoendienst and a double by Stan Musial. Schoendienst tried to score on Musial's double, but was out at the plate on a tremendous throw by Right Fielder Monte Irvin.

Giant pitchers now have allowed only seven runs in their last eight games.

Nippy Jones of the Cardinals hit one into the left field bleachers in the first inning with a man on, but it didn't count. Umpire Jocko Conlan had called a balk on Zabala a moment before the pitch and ruled that the pitch, and the homer, would not count.

Whitely Lockman doubled down the left field line in the first inning, driving in Hank Thompson with the first run. Thompson singled as the inning started.

A double against the right field pavilion screen by Sid Gordon and a single by Irvin in the fourth produced the Giants' second run.

Singles by Bill Rigney, Ray Mueller and Thompson were good for another run in the sixth.

Cincinnati, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds scored five runs in the eighth inning today with the aid of three errors by third baseman Billy Cox to defeat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 5-2.

Johnny Wyrostek homered to start the eighth for the Reds and Cox then came up with a siege of butterfly fingers.

Yanks Blast Six Homers To Outslug Brownies 9 To 8

New York, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The New York Yankees looked like the bombers of old today as they blasted out six home runs to overpower the St. Louis Browns, 9-8.

Successive ninth inning home runs by Tommy Henrich and Joe DiMaggio broke up the ball game and increased the Yanks' American league lead over the Cleveland Indians to four games. The Indians bowed, 2-0, to the Philadelphia Athletics.

The Browns took an early 8-3 lead on home runs by Paul Lehner, Sherm Lollar and Gerry Priddy. Then the Yanks displayed their fireworks.

Yogi Berra started things with his 15th homer in the third. Phil Rizzuto and DiMaggio hit for the circuit in the fifth. Rizzuto socked his second, with one on, in the sixth and then Henrich and DiMaggio staged the thrilling climax.

Miller will attend the All-Star football game at Chicago August 12, between the College All-Stars and the Philadelphia Eagles. Coach Miller has not filled his I.C. basketball schedule at this time but his team will play several top notch fives this winter. The second annual holiday tourney at Illinois College will be held at the Illinois School for the Deaf gym if the dates are not conflicting with the School for Deaf schedule.

Bob Mirus, coach at Pawnee Township high the last three years has been hired to coach basketball at Varna Union high next season. Mirus formerly coached at Neoga before taking the job at Pawnee. He is a graduate of Charleston State Teachers college. The 1949 Pawnee five won the Sangamon County title and lost only one player from the first ten; the Indians will be tough to beat in defending their championship in the fourth annual Jacksonville holiday tourney in December.

Coach Art Yates of the Illinois School for Deaf lists his 1949 football schedule. His Tigers open the season with the heavy Carrollton Hawks of the Ivy loop of Sept. 24 at the West Side field. ## Determined Band Of All-Stars Will Seek Revenge

Chicago, Aug. 6.—(AP)—A determined and talented band of college all-stars will trot into Soldier Field Friday night seeking revenge from the National football league in battle which will kick off the 1949 gridiron season.

The occasion is the 11th annual scrap between the all-stars and the National football league champions—this year the Philadelphia Eagles. The advance ticket sale indicates a crowd of around 100,000 persons will be on hand.

The squad of 70 collegians, coached by Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma, will seek to wipe out the 28 to 0 trimming handed last year's all-stars by the Chicago Cardinals, then National pro league champs.

Wilkinson has a flock of standout backs and linemen to throw at the Eagles in "split-T" and regular "T" formations.

But he is worried about his defense. He pointed out his stars must stop Steve Van Buren, who spearheads the Eagles' running attacks, and also must play flawless defense against the passing of Tommy Thompson.

"These are big assignments," Wilkinson mourned. "The Eagles' professional opponents couldn't do it consistently last year."

The starting offensive and defensive lineups of the stars will not be named until the final practice next Thursday. Among linemen expected to get a chance to stop Van Buren and the Eagles are Bill Fischer and Marty Wendell of Notre Dame; Al Derogatis, Duke Barney Poole, Mississippi; Chuck Bednarik, Pennsylvania; Alex Sargisian, Northwestern; Dick Harris and George Petrovich, Texas; Phil O'Reilly, Purdue; and Goble Bryant and Joe Steffy, Army.

Todd Pushing Mangrum
Chicago, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Harry Todd of Dallas, Tex., knocking brilliant approaches for a seven-under-par 65, barged within a stroke of yesterday's pacesetter Lloyd Mangrum as the first round of the $20,000 All-American professional tourney ended today.

Todd, whose most recent bid to fame was the Ozark open he won last fall at Springfield, Mo., banged home eight birdies to finish two taps ahead of leading money-winner Sammy Snead and Bill Nary of Los Angeles, who had 67's.

A throng of 7,000 wandered over gaily-decked Tam O'Shanter course as some 120 tardy starters rushed after the eight-under-par 64 Mangrum posted in yesterday's first installment of the opening round.

The actual third spot holders, ahead of Snead and Nary, were Chick Harbert and Jim Turnesa.

State Acts To Cut Down Casualties In Boxing Ring

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 6.—(AP)—The Illinois Athletic Commission today announced a new move aimed at holding boxing casualties to an "absolute minimum."

Chairman Joe Triner said that in about 10 days the commission will institute the first complete medical service for fighters to be established by any state ring control agency.

One feature of the plan calls for installation in the commission's Chicago office of an array of medical equipment, including a fluoroscope, electro-cardiograph, and electronic stethoscope.

These facilities will be used in routine pre-fight examination of boxers. Triner said the commission also will undertake examinations during training if a trainer or manager suspects his fighter is not rounding into shape and asks a checkup.

Triner said a doctor will be put on duty at the commission office one hour each day in the week. The medic will be directed to render free treatment to any fighter who becomes ill or is injured during training.

The chairman said pre-fight examinations recently were made more difficult. He disclosed that 12 boxers were rejected for bouts in the last three months. Six of them as a result of examinations a day or more in advance of scheduled fights.

Not long ago, the commission adopted a regulation barring from the ring for six weeks any fighter knocked unconscious in a bout.

Triner said the entire "ring safety" program was an attempt to "protect the health and safety of the boxer as much as humanly possible."

Posts 71 In Opening Round; Jerry Barber Fires 70 In Golf Meet

Don Fairfield, 19-year-old golf professional at Nichols park links, posted one of the leading scores at the conclusion of two-day first round activities in the All-American professional golf tournament on the beautiful Tam O'Shanter greens in Chicago.

Jerry Barber, a former Jacksonville resident now living in Los Angeles, Calif., was also listed among the leading scorers at the end of the first round. Barber chalked up a 70 stroke total, and Fairfield came through with a 71 to stay in the running behind such notable professionals as Lloyd Mangrum, Harry Todd and Jim Turnesa.

Barber has attracted the spotlight in golfing circles for the past several years. He has placed high in several tournaments of note, the most recent of which was the National Open.

Fairfield, on the other hand, is swinging his niblicks in a major golf tournament for the first time. A graduate of Jacksonville high school, the youngsters topped several amateur crowns throughout the state while still matriculating.

Following graduation from the local school, he defied his amateur status to enter professional ranks, and now at 19, appears to be well on his way to entering the charmed circle of a professional golf winner.

Twenty rained-out games remain to be played off in the senior "A" and "B" softball leagues at the Southside park before final circuit standings can be accurately compiled.

It is now stands, the Pepsi Cola aggregation, with a league record of 7 wins and no losses, are sure-fire favorites to cop "B" honors. They have three cancelled games to wipe off their schedule before the results will become official.

The Implement Dealers have apparently come out on top in the senior "A" league. With only a single game remaining to play, the Dealers hold a record of 8 wins and 1 loss in the stronger loop. The Moose outfit, with a 3-2 mark, is the only club that can possibly tie the Dealers.

Four of the rained-out affairs will be wiped off the books Monday and Tuesday nights. The sectional tournament gets underway Wednesday, and will prolong the league windups for a few days.

Monday night's games will put Nesco against Red & White in the "B" league opener at 7:30 p.m. with the Elks and Moose tangling at 8:45.

Tuesday night finds the V.F.W. and Ruh & Durocher "B" league teams meeting at 7:30 with the K. of C. and Myers Bros. softbalers tangling at 8:45.

Buffalo Jammed With Record Flow Of Summer Grain
Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 6.—(AP)—This major milling center is experiencing what veteran grain industry spokesmen believe to be the greatest summer flow of grain in its history.

More than 20,000,000 bushels now jam the city's huge waterfront elevators. The remaining space in the elevators, which have a total capacity of 24,000,000 bushels, has been contracted for and soon will be filled.

The only comparable summer season, veteran grain men say, was in 1922 when a rail strike caused a temporary jam. A year ago, Buffalo elevators were holding only about 3,000,000 bushels.

Governor Given Authority To Operate Docks
Honolulu, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Gov. Ingram M. Stainback today signed into law a legislative act authorizing him to seize and operate docks in an effort to end Hawaii's paralyzing $8-day Stevedore strike.

The striking CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union immediately announced it would challenge constitutionality of the act as soon as the government makes its first move to operate the docks.

Under terms of the law, the governor must first call on the union and the seven truck companies to resume operations. If advised that they cannot or will not, he then must proclaim an emergency and take over operation of the docks for 180 days or until the strike ends.

"We will seek a restraining order, challenge constitutionality, and seek to recover any losses suffered by Longshoremen because of the law," said ILWU President Harry Bridges.

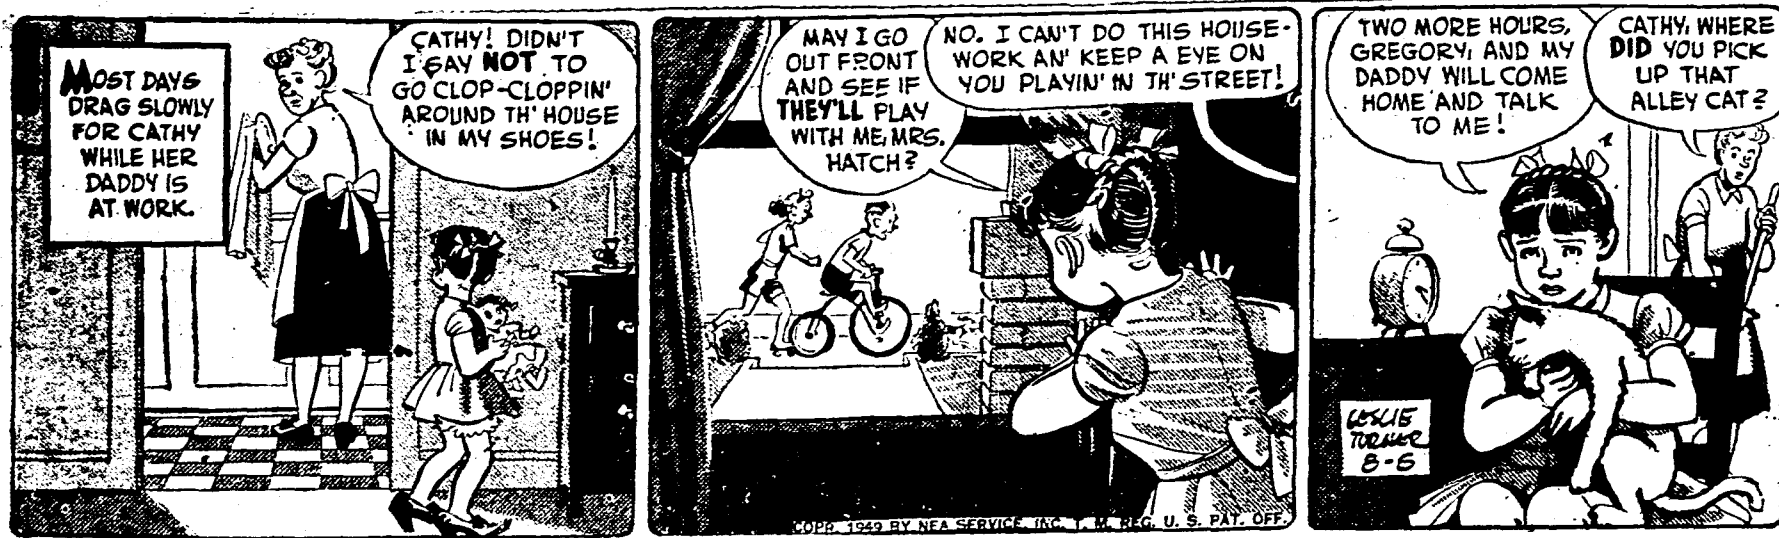

Shortly before the legislature completed passage of the act early today, the approximately 2,000 strikers voted unanimously not to work for the government.

XXIV

MRS. MALONE brought a basin of warm water and a cloth. Gently she bathed Mrs. Everson's face and hands. There were bruises around her wrists, bloody circles where the rings had been. Her lips were dark and swollen and her cheek was laid open.

All of this was horrible; but more horrible was the woman's humiliation in defeat. She took long, shuddering breaths, but there were no tears in her eyes—only a dry, ferocious rage.

"Where do you keep your medicines?" Mrs. Malone demanded.

"They are in the sedan," Victor said quickly.

"Let's go, then!"

The storm was now coming on in earnest. The lightning was a constant glare and thunder jarred the earth like siege guns. A high wind lashed the trees, roared through their swaying tops. As Victor and Mrs. Malone reached the bank, the first drops fell.

Then the clouds opened, and down came an enormous, overwhelming weight of water. Even under the trees it beat upon them and knocked the breath from their bodies.

In the sedan the roar of pounding water was staggering. Victor turned on the dome light and Mrs. Malone fumbled in the medicine chest. Sulfate ointment, bandages, adhesive tape. She wrapped them in a bit of oil cloth. All with furious haste. Then she stopped.

Victor stared at her, his eyes a little wild.

"No use even trying," Mrs. Malone insisted. "We'd drown out there! Nothing to do but wait. It can't last long at this rate!"

AS the minutes passed and that incredible torrent continued to pour down, a kind of numbing, as terror took possession of Mrs. Malone, The wind did subside, and the thunder and lightning diminished. Then, abruptly, completely, the rain stopped. Only a distant flicker of lightning remained, and the softer patter of drops from the trees.

Victor and Mrs. Malone clambered out, shivering, and set off through the woods. Neither of them spoke. Instead, tensing every faculty, they listened. Because now there seemed to be a new sound, as yet hardly more than a presentiment.

At the river bank they stopped, straining to identify this new presence. The sound rose in volume, a peculiar heavy growl that seemed to come from the mountains themselves. Victor shone his powerful flashlight upstream in the direction of the disturbance.

Suddenly they saw it: a steep slope of raging water that hurtled down the river bed, powerfully, relentlessly, taking with it trees, stumps, great boulders, pushing the debris before it like a battering-ram.

Victor switched his flashlight beam to the gleaming trailer on the sand-spit below. One instant it was there—beside the piled-up barrels and crates from the truck.

The next, the churning tide struck and overturned them, lifted and tossed them, overwhelmed them. The smashing of lumber and glass and metal was lost in the greater confusion of the flood, the titanic roaring of the water, the appalling jar and thud of huge boulders hammering together in the river bed.

The crest passed. The great trailer was gone. Where the sand-spit had been, a deep, tugging torrent surged by.

IT all happened in the space of a few minutes. Mrs. Malone had a curious sense of detachment, as if she were only a spectator, in no way concerned with the tragic drama itself. Her teeth were chattering and her hair had come down.

She thought: "I'm alive." She said it over and over to herself, trying to realize the miracle of sentence. But fear and shock had left her mind dark, and she felt neither relief nor exultation, only a sense of loss and dread.

Victor was staring at the river. Now he turned to Mrs. Malone. "Everything is gone," he said dully. "Everything."

He moved his hand in a limp gesture of despair.

"There is no safety anywhere. We are finished!"

Mrs. Malone took him gently by the arm and led him back to the trailer in the woods. He slumped down at the table, his head on his arms.

"Whatever shall we do?" he moaned. "We cannot stay here and we cannot go out. Mrs. Everson said it is already too late."

Mrs. Malone fumbled in the cupboard, found some whiskey and poured him a stiff drink. As he gulped, Mrs. Malone had an inspiration: she turned on the radio. For a few moments, while the tubes heated, there was silence.

Then a wave of familiar, reassuring sound filled the little room. It was a Pacific Coast night club, going full blast. Behind the steady beat and drone of the orchestra could be heard, small and distinct, the clink of glasses, the flutter of conversation, an occasional gay laugh. Evidently it was a good party.

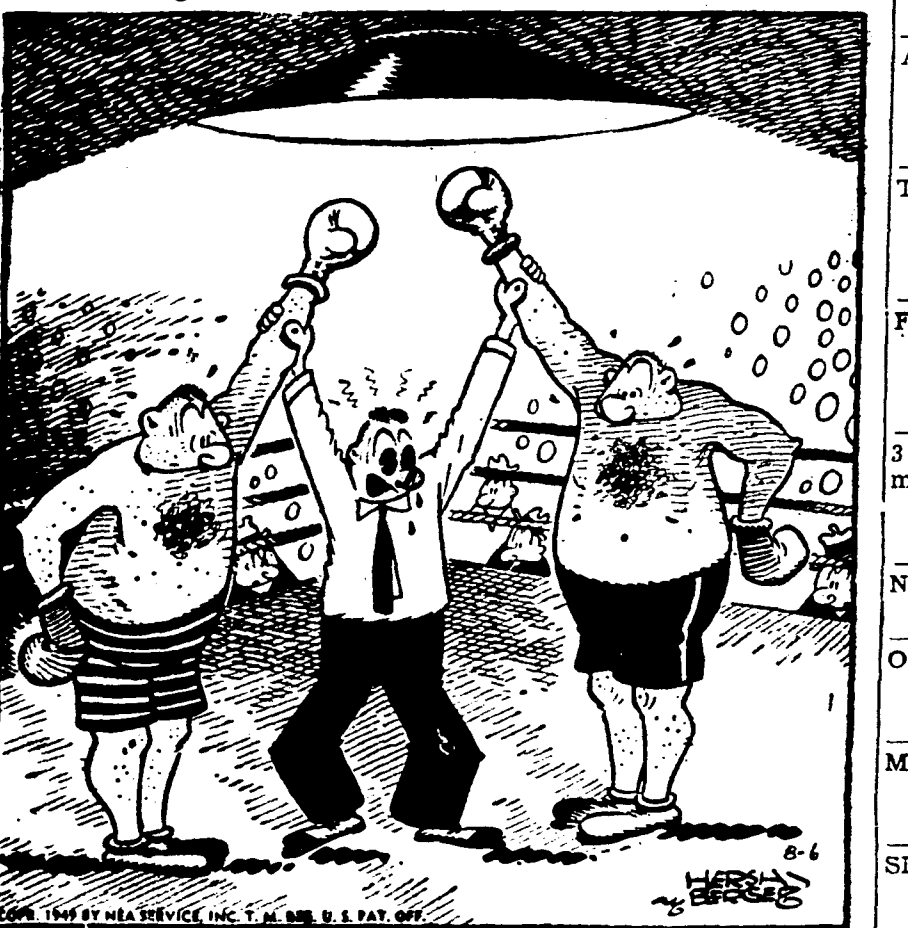

"You see!" Mrs. Malone cried eagerly. "The world is perfectly safe, after all! It hasn't really come to an end!"

A glimmer of hope lighted Victor's face.

"No," he said hesitantly. "Not yet."

Cass Farm Lake To End Erosion, Flood Hazards

By The Journal-Courier Farm Editor

Five elements of improvement are contained in the plans of the largest private farm lake project to be constructed in Illinois this year.

The Crum family, Mrs. Lulu Crum and her sons, Wood and Charles, hope the five-acre lake on their farm located southwest of Virginia will give them an abundant, year-around water supply for their livestock, a silting reservoir, flood control for 100 acres of fertile bottom land, farm beautification and recreation.

To obtain all this they have enlisted available technical information and have taken on the job of moving at least 20,000 cubic yards of earth to build a dam 250 feet long that will impound a lake with a surface area of five acres. When completed the area will be surrounded by a living fence of colorful multiflora rose. The lake will be stocked with bass and bluegills. A two-inch pipe carried through the dam will be connected to a combination tank to insure a unfailing water supply for the farm's livestock, ordinarily 200 head of cattle and 600 head of hogs annually.

Will Fill Gullies
For years now surface water from 136 acres of upland has been rushing to the south. The swirling waters have carved two deep gullies, many lesser ones. Often the floodwaters carried by the now 15 foot deep ravines inundated crops growing on a fertile 100 acres lying to the south. The crops were damaged to some extent every year. Large sections were destroyed in some seasons. The dam should end this damage.

The dam will be 38 feet high. It will have a 12 foot top, with a 2-1 slope in front and a 3-1 back slope. A long concrete cable will hold an 18 inch reinforced concrete overflow pipe. If this can't handle all new water, it will flow through an emergency sodded aqueduct further to the east.

O. T. Dobyns, soil conservation engineer from the Bloomington office, is in technical charge of the project. He is being assisted by Bob Smith, also of Bloomington office, Cass Conservationist Sherman D. Orr and his aide, Hobart Rigg.

Experienced Workers
The Crum Brothers have built many smaller farm ponds in this area. Norman Lyon, their bulldozer driver, has done most of the work on the dam so far, Arthur C. Jones of Beardstown has been helping with his Bantam truck-mounted dragline and its one-third yard scoop.

The project, when completed, promises to be a beautiful man-made lake. Its northern tip will edge the public road nearly a half-quarter mile from the dam.

The builders are making good progress, but there is a lot of work to do. The farm is on a road that leads to the Edward L. C. Crum farm, where the giant Cass-Scott soil day program will be held all day Tuesday, Aug. 30. Visitors en route to the demonstration are invited to stop and see the dam. Everybody hopes it will be pretty well along by then.

Kindergarten At White Hall Ends Six Weeks Course

White Hall — The kindergarten school conducted by Misses Margaret Kinnison and Edith Chapin which has been running for six weeks was concluded on Friday with a splendid crowd of mothers and children in attendance at the shop put on at 10 o'clock at the Presbyterian church on Friday morning.

The school had an enrollment of 28, and 22 pupils took part in the program. The theme of the show was the "Months of the Year" with Peggy Aldie acting as Father Time and Judy Wiley as Mother Nature, their dialogue trying to prove which children of the various months of the year were most popular.

Each month was pictured by a song, a dance or a skit, appropriate to that certain month, and ending with a small Santa Claus presenting candy to each pupil in the school, after which cookies and ice cream were served.

Judy Wiley acted as pianist for the various parts of the show and she and Peggy Aldie have been the assistants of the teachers during the six weeks period. Each pupil made as his most outstanding article, an ash tray fashioned of clay with the print of his hand in the center and his name. These were baked by the Sandidge, Miss Lucille Garner, Miss Katherine Wahlfeld, Mrs. Helen Lynne, James Colston, and Mrs. Donavon Alcorn.

The pallbearers were Donavon Alcorn, Alvin Behrards, Archie Ogden, Paul Sandidge, Ernest Workman, and James Colston.

Local Man Returns From ROTC Course At Camp McCoy

Recently returned from advanced ROTC infantry training at Camp McCoy, Wisc. is Reginald Sauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Sauer, 471 East State street. Young Sauer, who is a student at St. Norbert college located at Green Bay, Wisc., left for the camp June 16 for a six week training course.

Twenty-one other St. Norbert students were given the same training. Having completed the various courses, the men are now qualified to teach infantry tactics.

Sauer, who fired every weapon in the infantry table of equipment, walked guard, and pulled K. F., said he found the training strenuous. "I had no idea, before what men in combat went through, but now I have an inkling of an idea," he said.

Highlight of the course was a 27 hour field problem wherein the soldiers battled a hypothetical enemy and honest to goodness mosquitoes. Sauer said that before the problem ended, his outfit had walked 22 miles with battle equipment.

As for Wisconsin weather, he has nothing but praise. He described it as "close to ideal." And as for Camp McCoy, which is located in semi-mountainous terrain, he thought it worth the time of any sightseer.

Sauer will undergo two more semesters of training in college then will receive a commission in the army reserve corps. His branch of service will probably be the infantry.
